Person-Environment Fit - an overview | ScienceDirect Topics

If the correlation between a person variable and a conceptually, contentwise, or practically concordant environment variable, or between profiles of concordant person and environment variables, is interpreted as “fit,” then the generic PERM in Fig. 2 can accommodate and guide more nuanced models. An example is given in Fig. 6 that extends path e of the PERM, ...

The Parenting Styles and Dimensions Questionnaire (PSDQ)

At its core, maturity comes from a set of skills called self-regulation. Self-regulation is the ability to understand and manage emotions and impulses. Kids who struggle to self-regulate have a harder time dealing with even small setbacks. For example, a child who walks off angrily because their friends won't play the game they want. Parents can help by teaching kids to speak up for
